

Logging in

There are now two ways to login to partner applications. You can use either your Login.gov credentials or your existing Partner Account credentials.

*Please note!! Partner Account credentials will be retiring in May 2024 and all users will be required to use Login.gov going forward.

How To Log In Using Login.gov

1. Navigate to the application being accessed (a list of applications is available at <https://irma.nps.gov/>).
2. Click the Log On/Log In link in the top right corner of the page.

Select how you want to authenticate

[Log On]

The application you are attempting to access supports one, or more, ways to authenticate. Use the options below to select how you would like to authenticate.

LOGIN.GOV What is Login.gov?

Login.gov is a free and secure way to login into IRMA, and many other, government hosted web applications. Up until 5/2024 you will still be able to login using your existing PartnerSTS account. However, after 5/2024, if you have not upgraded to login.gov you may lose access to any of your resources within IRMA.

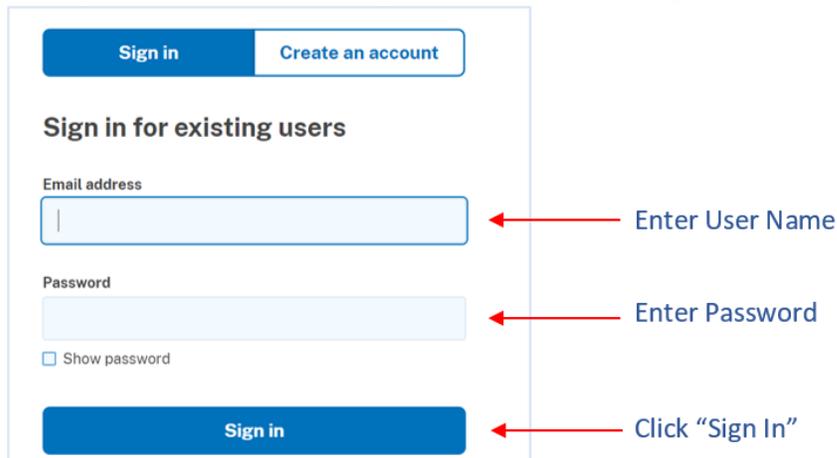

If you have an existing IRMA Partner Account, please login using that account first (username/password below), so you can link it to your Login.gov account, the system will guide you through the process.
