

Mock Document (7/2022)

This is a "dummy" document used for development purposes.

The IRMA development, integration, and QA hosted applications all use a file indexing service, this service's dataset will only point to "dummy" documents like this, or development documents that may have been uploaded from development, QA or integration (not production). This separation is necessary to securely protect any production documents, that may contain sensitive information, from potentially leaking through un-hardened, "beta" versions of software.
